HEARST'S START IN RHODE ISLAND.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE)

New York, March 14—The six delegates selected by the Rhode Island convention, who won their places as Hearst men, met after the convention. The two other delegates did not attend the meeting, but as a majority was present and voting the entire delegation will be bound by the acts of the majority. The following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, We, John J. Fitzgerald, of Pawtucket; George W. Greene, of Woonsocket; Thomas H. Connolly, of Warren; David J. Parry, of Providence; Andrew Farrell, of Westerly, and Samuel E. Daubney, of Providence, all of the State of Rhode Island, have this day, March 10, 1904, been duly elected by the State Democratic party, in convention assembled at Providence, Rhode Island, as delegates to the National Democratic Convention, at St. Louis.

Whereas, It is our abiding conviction that William Randolph Hearst of New York, best represents the true principles of Jeffersonian Democracy; and,

Whereas, We have confidence in said William R. Hearst as the champion of the cause of the people, and believe in the restriction and control of the iniquitous trusts that are a menace to our prosperity; and,

Whereas, Said William R. Hearst has opposed with vigor the encroachments of said trusts upon the rights of the people, and we believe him to be sincere, aggressive, far-sighted, with keen perception and marked executive ability, as demonstrated in the management of his own large business interests; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, composing seventy-five per cent of the delegates elected by the Democrats of Rhode Island, in convention assembled at Providence to represent them in the National Convention of the Democratic party, to be held at St. Louis, declare ourselves unequivocally in favor of the nomination of William R. Hearst for President by the National Democratic Convention, and do pledge him our loyal and continued support at such convention; be it further

Resolved, That a meeting of all of the delegates to the National Democratic Convention, elected by the State Democratic Convention of Rhode Island, be called for Saturday, March 12, and at such meeting we shall vote that the "unit rule" shall govern the delegation from Rhode Island to the National Democratic Convention, and the entire vote of said delegation shall be given to William Randolph Hearst.

According to the despatches, Japan is the irresistible force and Russia the "immoveable object" that are about to meet in the Orient. Pete O'Sullivan, proprietor of the Shamrock, the place to get first class liquors, will explain what will happen when they come together. Nuuau street between King and Hotel.
